

Metaltech is here to stay.

We've grown quickly. Business is brisk, and Metaltech is profitable, with long-range plans designed to keep it that way. We'll continue to offer what our customers tell us they want: quality, efficiency, and service. Also, we'll keep structuring our costs and prices to maintain a reasonable rate of return for our creditors, investors, and employees, while helping to keep our customers competitive in their own markets. ○ What we won't do is diversify away from our expertise in coated products. Our flexibility lets us meet a wide range of customer needs, but our focus keeps us concentrating on what we do well. We won't change that. ○ At Metaltech, we produce quality galvanized steel and sell it at a fair market price. That's our business today, and it will be our business tomorrow.
